CAPTURED HIS MAN.

Deputy Sheriff Curl Pursued Negro and Caught Him in Levy.

There was a lively old time at the home of Joe Adams, colored, near Archer, Saturday, with the result that Old Man Joe is considerably bruised up, and his alleged assailant, Jim Bingham, his son-in-law, is in jail upon a charge of assault and battery. Bingham made his escape shortly after the fracas, but with the usual alacrity of Officer Curl a hot trail was made and he was captured near Montbrook, Levy county.

The prisoner was arraigned before Judge Mason on Monday, but owing to the inability of the plaintiff, Adams, and other witnesses to be present, a postponement was taken until Thursday. In the meantime Bingham will be retained in prison, as he failed to secure bond.

ARMS WERE SHIPPED.

F. F. S. Rifles and Accouterments Sent to Arsenal at Augusta.

L. J. Clyatt, acting as agent for the State Board of Control, shipped to the United States arsenal at Augusta, Ga., one hundred Springfield rifles, together with side-arms and accouterments, the property of the United States government, and loaned to the Seminary.

This shipment concludes the government property in possession of the Seminary, and with this the relations which so long existed are at an end.

Instead of sending rifles the government will now be requested to furnish a supply of hoes, pick-axes and farming implements for the agricultural department of the University, which will be ready for the opening of the fall term.

It is said that wild-cats and foxes are plentiful in the woods surrounding Gainesville. A number have been either captured or killed within the past few months.
